Headline:
Dry with sunny spells and light winds today. Chilly overnight.

Today:
After a chilly start in places, it will be another fine and dry day with variable cloud and sunny spells. Still on the chilly side along the east coast, but feeling pleasant in the sunshine inland, with light winds. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Overnight will be fine and dry, with clear spells. It will be another chilly night, with a touch of frost and possibly some mist and fog patches forming in places. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Sunday:
Another chilly start in places, although it will be a fine and dry day, with sunny spells. Feeling warm in the sunshine. Turning cloudier and breezier with some rain later. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
A change to much colder conditions this week, with strong northerly winds bringing frequent showers of hail and snow, especially exposed windward coasts and hills. Becoming less cold on Wednesday.
